

Full Stack Stock Portfolio Management & AI Analytics Platform

A comprehensive full stack financial platform designed for intelligent portfolio management and market analysis. Built using Django, React, and scikit learn, the system enables users to track investments, analyze risk, and gain actionable insights through machine learning and AI driven features. Key Features: - Portfolio tracking and performance monitoring - Risk analysis and diversification insights - Machine learning based clustering of stocks - Bitcoin price forecasting system - Metals market analysis - Sentiment analysis using financial news and social media data - AI powered chatbot for real time insights and guidance The platform leverages automated data pipelines, interactive dashboards, and predictive analytics to deliver a complete data driven investment experience.